To the friends of Temperance and the public generally we now make our appeal in behalf of this paper. The publisher feeling it a matter of importance to the interest of the Temperance cause in the District, as well as the general interest of the cause, and having been, as he conceives, Providentially placed in a situation at this time when he can mingle this interest with that of the business men, and thereby render a double service to the community, and still further open a medium of communication by which our principles may be extended far and wide, at a cheap rate. He has purchased a printing establishment, so as not only to be able to put a daily paper regularly to press, but also a weekly; and still further, be able to do any other printing the public may be pleased to have done; and he assures them that they shall have no cause of complaint. He has made arrangements by which he can devote his time to the interest of the office and the paper; and, having employed Mr. Charles W.
Fenton, who will be always on the spot, to conduct the printing, he has no doubt but that general satisfaction will be given. We shall make arrangements to have the earliest news; also the proceedings of Congress.

We wish all who are indebted for the paper up to this time to pay up, as the affairs of the tri-weekly must be closed. They will perceive that we are about to give them a better paper, double the number, at the same price.

While the "COLUMBIAN FOUNTAIN" will be devoted to the cause of Temperance, its columns will be enriched by original articles on subjects calculated to interest, instruct, and benefit its readers. It is intended so to blend variety, amusement, and instruction, as that the various tastes of its patrons may be (as far as it is practicable) gratified.
Commerce, Literature, and Science, and every other subject of interest, not inconsistent with Temperance and morality, will receive the earnest attention of the publishers.
Nothing of a sectarian, political, or personal character will be admitted.

A CARD.

THE subscriber begs leave to say to members of Congress and others, that he has several good rooms which he will let on accommodating terms, either furnished or unfurnished, located on the South side of Pennsylvania avenue, between 9th and 10th streets, and equidistant between the Capitol and the public offices. I have also two of the best cellars in the city, which I will rent in part or the whole, or receive goods on storage.
This is a good opportunity for butchers or market people.
L. S. BECK.

JUST FROM THE MINT!!!

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.
L. S. BECK & SON, would take this method of notifying the citizens of Washington and the adjacent counties of Maryland and Virginia, that they have commenced the house furnishing business in all its various branches, on Pennsylvania avenue, South side, between 9th and 10th streets, where they intend keeping a constant supply of new and second hand goods, and promise to sell on the most reasonable terms. We, therefore, solicit a call from our friends and the public generally, as we intend selling at a VERY SLIGHT PROFIT. We would enumerate in part the following: Ivory, Buck and Cocoa hand-

For the Columbian Fountain.

A REMINISCENCE OF BY-GONE DAYS.
MR. EDITOR: The following incident is no romance, no creature of the imagination, no ideal fantasy; but it is a reality, a startling reality, which occurred in the eastern section of this city about seven winters ago. It was a tragedy in which the "rheumy and unpurged air" of a freezing night performed the murderer: I witnessed the opening scene; but the closing was visible to no eye save the all-seeing eye of God.

About seven winters ago, on a December night, I entered a tavern in the eastern section of the city, and called for a hot whisky punch. It was a freezing night, and myriads of twinkling orbs bedecked the blue ethereal vault, in the centre of which hung the lamp of night. This huge Pharos of the skies shot forth its silvery beams upon the snow-shrouded earth, over which the Northern Boreas swept his fitful blasts, warning the traveller not "to dare the vile contagion of the night." It was about 10 o'clock, and I was sipping at the fatal bar the accursed nectar from the damning chalice, when the latch of the door was thrown up, the door opened, and a human being crossed the threshold, and stood within the room. Upon his head was an old straw hat, upon his back hung the tatters of a coat, upon his legs fluttered the rags of summer wear, and his unshod feet were thrust in shoes that admitted the piercing cold: in his hand he held a small bundle, which contained all his earthly possessions. His countenance was haggard, and bore an expression of sorrow; and the whole being was an object calculated to arouse in his behalf the sympathetic feelings of the human breast. He stood for a few moments trembling with the cold, and then addressing the landlord, who stood behind the bar, said:

"Sir, the night is very cold, and I have no place to stay; will you be kind enough then, sir, to allow me to lie by your stove for this night?"

The unfeeling landlord looked at the poor applicant, who was shivering with cold, and menacingly replied:

"Begone! did I not tell you not to show yourself here again?"

"O sir! do not thrust me from your door, I will harm nothing," supplicated the poor man, "it is a cold night, and I shall freeze."
"Begone!" again roared the landlord, "leave the house instantly!"

A tear glistened in the eye of the outcast as that inhuman command thundered upon his ear; he bent down his head, and looked at the floor for a few moments as if in thought. He was communing with himself, he was thinking probably of his old mother, or of his wife and children, whom he had left in another city to the cold charity of the world; probably he was thinking of those dear ones whom he loved, although he was an outcast. The friendless man heaved a sigh, grasped his little bundle more firmly, and then, opening the door, issued forth into the world; to wander—he knew not where.

During the next morning, an inquest was held upon the body of a man who had been found dead on the banks of the canal. It was the body of the unfortunate outcast.
Overcome by the cold, the friendless man sank down upon the snow, and, with a thought of his dear wife and fond children, closed his eyes in death, far, far away from his home.

I take this occasion, Mr. Editor, to renew assurances of profound esteem.

JAMES LITTLE.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23, 1846.

From the Pledge and Standard.

THE BRANDYWINE BATTLE GROUND.—It appears from recent occurrences that murder with all its horrors still revels on this bloody field, on the banks of the beautiful Brandywine, near one of the American embankments. The ammunition used in the work of death is not powder and ball as formerly, but what is still worse, a liquid fire that destroys both body and soul.—All persons that value their lives, liberty or reputation, I would caution to be on their guard, or the agent that stands ready, may apply the torch, and discharge a load of this liquid fire into your stomachs, as practice has made him expert in such warfare.

Now the pith of such business is, that on the morning of the twenty-third of first month, one of the coldest this winter, a woman was found at J. P. Harvey's saw-mill, lying by a log, with her jug by her side, almost lifeless. She was removed to the Chads Ford Inn where she died in a short time. It is rumored that the landlord hired a neighbor to carry her to Delaware county poor house for further care, the firm not being willing to incur the expense of burial. The strong suspicion is that she got her liquor at the said Inn, as she was at one of the near neighbors the evening previous, soliciting provisions for herself and child, and probably the liquor in her jug at the time. The landlord could not be ignorant of her habits! I have no doubt that her store has been supplied by him frequently. A few nights previous to this, she lay out through the night with her child and the child's clothes were frozen to the ground, and on the 25th, it was buried.— It may safely be said the rum selling fraternity has caused two premature deaths—within two days of each other. Now in view of all such scenes, who is the murderer? the respectable citizens whom the law requires to sign the recommendations, their agents the rum seller, or the court that granted the license to murder in the face of a remonstrance of one hundred of the most respectable citizens of the neighborhood. A virtuous community cannot fail to place it where it ought to rest.

A TETOTALER.

PARENTAL SOLICITUDE.—An English gentleman related to us the other day the following anecdote:—One English clergyman having called upon another, the subject of Temperance was casually brought in among the topics conversationable. Both were warmly in favor of moderate drinking, but one of the parties, influenced by natural parental affection, on his friend's bringing forward the arguments in favor of the practice, contrived to get him out of the room, so that his children should not hear them. Comment is unnecessary.

[N. Y. Organ.]

We learn from the Richmond Whig that the bill for the extension of the James River and Kanawha Canal to Buchanan, and its connexion with tide-water, was indefinitely postponed, by a majority of two votes.

Leather, Leather, Leather.

THE subscriber, Thos. G. Fox, returns his thanks to his friends and the consumers of Leather in general, for the liberal patronage he has received since he opened his Leather and Cur-rying store, on the corner of 7th and G streets.— He would respectfully inform them that he has now a full assortment of his own finish on hand, and which he can recommend as equal to any in the District, which will be sold on the most reasonable terms.

The stock consists of Sole Leather and Skirting, and very superior Calf Skins, upper and kipps, Harness and Bridle, and bags' Leather, &c. All his Leather being tanned expressly for the establishment, he feels confident, with his practical knowledge of the business in all its branches, he can give general satisfaction.

Please call and see, before making purchases elsewhere. Hides bought, and Plastering Hair kept for sale.

PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE, Gettysburg,

Pennsylvania.
FACULTY AND INSTRUCTORS.
Rev. C. P. KRAUTH, D. D., President and Professor of Moral Science.
Rev. H. S. BAUGHER, A. M., Professor of Greek and Rhetoric.
Rev. M. JACOBS, A. M., Professor of Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, &c.
Rev. W. M. REYNOLDS, A. M., Professor of Latin, Mental Philosophy, &c.
M. L. STOEYER, A. M., Professor of History and Principal of Preparatory Department.
Rev. C. A. HAY, A. M., Professor of German Language and Literature.
HERMAN HAUPT, A. M., Professor of Mathematics.
WM. HENRY HARRISON, A. B., Assistant Professor of Languages.
DAVID GILBERT, M. D., Lecturer on Anatomy and Physiology.
Rev. J. G. MORRIS, D. D., Lecturer on Zoology.
WM. ALBAUGH, A. M., Tutor and Teacher in Preparatory Department.
H. R. GEIGER, Teacher of Writing.

The course of studies in Pennsylvania College is as extensive and substantial as that of any institution in the country. The Preparatory Department provides for instruction in all the branches of a thorough English business education, in addition to the Elements of the Mathematics and Classical Literature. The College course is arranged in the four classes usual in the institutions of this country.

The government of the students is as energetic as their circumstances seem to require. They attend at least two recitations a day, and the Faculty contemplate increasing them to three, Church and Bible Class on the Sabbath, and are visited in their rooms so frequently as to preclude the danger of any great irregularities. It is believed no institution in the United States has more exemplary young men in connexion with it. They are all required to lodge in the College edifice, special cases excepted.

The annual expenses are—for board, tuition and room rent, during the winter session $61 87 1-2; for the summer session, $41 87 1-2; washing, $10; wood, $3 00. Total expense, $116 75. Boarding can be had in town at $1 25 per week.

There are two vacations in the year, commencing on the third Thursdays of April and September; each of five weeks continuance.

The summer session will commence on Thursday, the 22d of May. The annual commencement takes place on the third Thursday in September.

The Trustees have recently made various arrangements which will increase the efficiency of the Institution. They have increased the number of Professors and provided for the most ample instruction of the students.

Professor Baugher and Haupt are prepared to board boys and to exercise a special supervision over their studies and deportment, and Parents who may prefer placing their sons under their care, will be secure in regard to their proper management, under arrangements such as pertain to the family circle.

HUNT'S MERCHANTS' MAGAZINE,

AND
COMMERCIAL REVIEW,
BY FREEMAN HUNT, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR, Published monthly, at 142 Fulton street, New York, at Five Dollars per annum, in advance.

The Merchants' Magazine and Commercial Review, embraces every subject connected with Commerce, Manufactures and Political Economy, as follows: Commercial Legislation; Commercial History and Geography; Mercantile Biography; Descriptive, Statistical and Historical Accounts, of the various commodities which form the subject of Mercantile transactions; Port Charges; Tariffs; Customs and Excise Regulations; Commercial Statistics of the United States and the different countries of the world, with which we have intercourse, including their Physical Character, Population, Productions, Exports, Imports, Seaports, Monies, Weights, Measures, Finance and Banking Associations, and Enterprises connected with Commerce, embracing Fisheries, Incorporated Companies, Railroads, Canals, Steamboats, Docks, Post Offices, &c.; Principles of Commerce, Finance and Banking, with Practical and Historical Details and Illustrations; Commercial Law, and Mercantile Law Reports and Decisions of Courts in the United States and Europe, including Insurance, Partisship, Principal and Agent, Bills of Exchange, Sale, Guaranty, Bankruptcy, Shipping and Navigation, &c., and whatever else shall tend to develop the resources of the country and the world, and illustrate the various topics bearing upon Commerce and Commercial Literature.

It has been, and will continue to be, the aim of the Editor and Proprietor of the Merchants' Magazine, to avoid everything of a party, political, or sectional bias or bearing, in the conduct of the work—opening its pages to the free and fair discussion of antagonistic doctrines connected with the great interests of Commerce, Agriculture, Manufactures and the Currency.

Complete sets of the Merchants' Magazine, embracing 12 semi-annual volumes, of about 600 large octavo pages each, bringing it down to June, 1844, inclusive, may be obtained at the Publisher's Office, 142 Fulton street, New York, at the subscription price.

Publishers of newspapers in the United States, by giving this advertisement two or three insertions and remitting Two Dollars to the Proprietor, will be entitled to the Magazine for one year.
